Dear Shareholder,

During the second quarter of 2017, the Osterweis Fund (the Fund) generated a total return of 2.26% versus 3.09% for the S&P 500 Index (the S&P 500). The Fund's annualized total returns over the one year, five year, ten year and twenty year periods ending June 30, 2017 were 11.32%, 9.83%, 4.81% and 9.67%, respectively, compared to 17.90%, 14.63%, 7.18% and 7.15% for the S&P 500 over the same periods.

Performance data quoted represent past performance; past performance does not guarantee future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than the original investment. Current performance of the Fund may be lower or higher than the performance quoted. Performance data current to the most recent month end may be obtained by calling (866) 236-0050. An investment should not be made solely on returns. The Fund's total expense ratio was 1.14% as of March 31, 2017.

As was widely expected, the Federal Reserve (the Fed) raised rates modestly in June, the fourth time since December 2015. What was somewhat surprising was the Fed's announcement that it plans to normalize (i.e., shrink) its portfolio of Treasury and mortgage securities. Markets digested the news and remained relatively stable in response. As discussed in the attached Investment Outlook, we believe the current low inflation environment is likely to persist as a result of durable counter-inflationary trends affecting consumers, technology and business. With inflation tame and employment rising, the outlook could continue to be favorable for equities, particularly if the Fed follows the current path of slow and deliberate increases.

We continue to focus our stock selection on attractively priced, rock-solid companies poised to grow their earnings and dividends independent of broader economic trends. At this point in the late stages of a bull market, we do not want to chase momentum. As always, we are sticking with our conservative equity selection, which should serve us well in the event of a market correction.

We thank you for your continued confidence in our management.

Sincerely,

John Osterweis & Team

Mutual Fund investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. The Fund may invest in medium and smaller sized companies, which involve additional risks such as limited liquidity and greater volatility. The Fund may invest in foreign and emerging market securities, which involve greater volatility and political, economic and currency risks and differences in accounting methods. These risks may increase for emerging markets. The Fund may invest in Master Limited Partnerships, which involve risk related to energy prices, demand and changes in tax code. The Fund may invest in debt securities that are un-rated or rated below investment grade. Lower-rated securities may present an increased possibility of default, price volatility or illiquidity compared to higher-rated securities. Investments in debt securities typically decrease in value when interest rates rise. This risk is usually greater for longer-term debt securities.

The S&P 500 Index is an unmanaged index that is widely regarded as the standard for measuring large-cap U.S. stock market performance. One cannot invest directly in an index.

Fund holdings are subject to change and should not be considered a recommendation to buy or sell any security.
